Director, Information & Broadcast Technology

To lead a dynamic technical team of information and broadcast technology professionals who bring their talents to delivering engaging, inspiring content, CKUA is renowned for globally.

Throughout your career, you have demonstrated an eye for the future and emerging technologies. You see ways to integrate and leverage their combined strengths to achieve superior performance. Whether streaming, digital, analog, satellite or the various corporate applications and infrastructure needed for CKUA to fulfill our commitment to the community, CKUA relies on you and your team of IT, digital and broadcast professionals as the backbone of our business

We are not looking for a plug-and-play technology professional. If you are curious, willing to roll your sleeves up, leverage technology to help a modern media organization thrive, and solidify our information and broadcast technology infrastructure, you are someone we want to meet. It is hard to imagine a technology ecosystem that provides the opportunity to work the full spectrum - from desktop to transmitter, satellite, and beyond. This is an opportunity without equal in Canada!

Beyond the technology, we expect you to take pride every day, knowing you and your team are responsible for bringing CKUA to the world.

Your Career Experience will demonstrate:

- Expert knowledge of multifaceted and complex technology environments, including LAN/WAN networking, information architecture, business continuity planning, cloud-based solutions, network security and application development.
- Expert proficiency with a variety of computer and mobile device platforms.
- Significant expertise with Microsoft Office 365, complimented by extensive experience implementing hardware, software, and Software as a Service projects.
- Capable of overseeing the installation of new or rebuilding existing servers to achieve sustained and secure performance.
- Experienced in configuring hardware, various peripherals, services, settings, and directories, with a full understanding of storage requirements and options.
- Develop and maintain installation and configuration procedures and templates to ensure business continuity and consistent practice through appropriate industry standard documentation.
- Knowledgeable of Cyber Security strategies and deployments.
- Knowledgeable and experienced in Office 365 Hybrid deployments and project management software.
- Experience with radio broadcasting and internet streaming technology and systems is considered an asset. The desire and capacity to learn about these systems is a must.

Preferred Technology Experience

- Thorough knowledge of e-mail environments, including Microsoft 365
- Directory, Hyper-V, Microsoft 365, Storage, Servers, and Azure
- SAN administration experience is preferred (Q-Nap and EMC)
- Knowledge and understanding of AOIP technology.
- Possess a basic understanding of networking concepts, systems, and services, EG ISP services, routers, firewalls, switches, and TCP/IP.
